Dear Mr. Gates:

It has been a year since Charlie Neuhauser passed away. At the time, we were moved to write the attached in memory of our brother and friend.

In the interim, we have made arrangements with the John K. Fairbank Center for East Asian Research to establish an annual short-term visiting lectureship in his name. This has been arranged through the good efforts of Professor Roderick MacFarquhar, a close friend of Charlie and director of the center.

The visiting lecturer will be drawn from the ranks of government, and his or her involvement at Harvard will serve a purpose dear to Charlie's heart: to maintain bridges between the world of government, policy, and the intelligence community and the university world.

We now invite you to contribute to this fund, so that its founding can be announced on this first anniversary of Charlie's death. We are pleased to announce that the Neuhauser family has made a generous contribution to the Charles Neuhauser lectureship, but your contributions are needed to assure the success of this endeavor. Please forward your check, made out to the John Fairbank Center for East Asian Research with purpose specified, to Roderick MacFarquhar, Fairbank Center for East Asian Research, Room 308, Harvard University, 1737 Cambridge Street, Cambridge, MA 02138.

Sincerely,

Paul Neuhauser
